The Larimer County Workforce Development Board has been designated as a High Performing Board by the Colorado Workforce Development Council. The achievement reflects the board's commitment to:

- Maintaining a diverse and knowledgeable membership.
- Engaged board members. More than 80% of members meet the strict attendance requirement outlined in our bylaws.
- Community engagement - The majority of members attended at least one workforce system event.
- Strategic priorities - The board identified strategic priorities (NoCo Works and other initiatives) and showed measurable impact on goals.

The designation as a High Performing Board is making a difference in Larimer County. Today, we are joined by Bob Brasser, CWDC Managing Director to present the certificate of accomplishment.
